

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Data & Reporting

Consulting & Compliance Support

Intertek validates organizations' environmental and social reporting data to ensure compliance with globally recognized frameworks. Additionally, we support our clients in developing GHG emissions inventory and providing GHG verification assurance for all industries.

Background

A sustainability report communicates an organization's sustainability performance and impacts – positive or negative – on the environment, society, and economy. Sustainability reporting helps organizations to set goals, measure performance, and manage change in order to make their operations more sustainable.

Through sustainability reporting, organizations are able to understand and be more transparent about the risks and opportunities they face from their corporate activities.

Drivers & benefits of sustainability reporting

Increased transparency in sustainability reporting encourages better decision making processes and helps build and maintain trust between customers, shareholders, businesses, governments, and other stakeholders. Other drivers and benefits include:

- Contributes to a more positive view of investors, owners, donors, sponsors, and the financial community
- Demonstrates compliance with global standards

- Mitigates operational risk
- Improves reputation and competitive advantage in the marketplace
- Attracts and retains workers, members, customers, clients, or users
- Maintains employee morale, commitment, and productivity
- Streamlines processes, reduces costs, and improves efficiency and waste reduction
